A Certificate of Occupancy will be required before you can occupy your business space and open for business. Your Certificate of Occupancy must be approved by both the Planning and the Building and Safety Divisions. If you are the first occupant in a new building, utilities will not be released until a Certificate of Occupancy is issued. In addition, you will need to obtain a Certificate of Occupancy prior to applying for a Business License.

NOTE: Depending on the type of business proposed the Community Development Department may be required to refer an applicant to other agencies for approval prior to issuance of a Certificate of Occupancy. Upon receipt of the above the Building Division will schedule an inspector to visit the site and review your application. When all agency approvals are received a Certificate of Occupancy will be issued.

CERTIFICATION

By signing below, I certify under the penalty of perjury:

- 1) The business will only provide the functions/services described here-in and attached here-to, and that the operation of the business will not violate any provision of the Chino Hills Municipal Code, City Ordinance, State of California law or Federal law.
- 2) That, if at any time, the business operates outside of the described functions/services, or violates any provision of the Chino Hills Municipal Code, City Ordinance, State of California law or Federal law, the City may require the business to cease operation until such time that any violation has been addressed to the satisfaction of the City, State, and/or Federal Government.
